CLIENT CHIVAS BROTHERS
PROJECT CONFINED SPACE TRAINING & RESCUE PLAN DEVELOPMENT

CLIENT CHALLENGE

Chivas Brothers is a global drinks company, and their production of spirits involves the use of tanks that need maintained and this process requires staff to enter confined spaces. They required training to prepare staff to work in these environments. Additionally, they required expert assistance with industry mandatory rescue planning.

AQUATERRA SOLUTION

AquaTerra used the Mobile Confined Space Training Unit to deliver industry-recognised training for working safely and effectively in confined spaces and conducted rescue plan development work with the client team.

TESTIMONIAL

“AquaTerra supplied us with their Mobile Confined Space Training Unit. This allowed our staff to gain practical experience of working in confined spaces. It is OK sitting in a classroom but when push comes to shove you learn a lot more in a practical setting. We are now pretty well prepared for working in confined spaces due to the training provided by AquaTerra.

AquaTerra are also great to work with. They have been flexible when it comes to getting dates arranged for training and are also flexible when it comes to delivering training, they built courses bespoke to our remit.”
